Morgan said, that hereafter he intended to speak in vindication of the attitude of the Southern members of Congress, which had been the object of much unjust aspersion. The South was not responsible for the existence of the question now agitating the public. He had considered it the best at present to yield to sidered it the best at present to yield to his friend from Indiana (Voohees). Voohees called attention to what he feared was not generally realized, namely, that federal interferance extended not only to Congressional but to all State and local elections. American citizens by thus having overseers put over them, were reduced to the voohees detailed the system of elec-tion laws, and pointed out provisions therein dangerous to free ballot, and usurpers always take the advantage of such bad laws; already our people have seen them used to defeat the popular will. Ceasar sent emissaries into the provinces to incite disturbances as an excuse to use the army to keep peace.

The same thing might be done and had been done by the President of the United States. Telier followed, and said the Democrats had until now sustained the veto power of the President. The proper place to test the validity of law was in the courts. The Democratic cry for free ballot is inconsistent, as all election frauds for the last thirty year have been advantage to the Democratic party. He concluded by citing evi-dence heard by the Teller committe as proof of correctness, in justice to his

WASHINGTON, April 17 .- House-Immediately after reading the journal the question came up from yesterday morning on the bill reported from the Committeee on Coinage, Weights and Measures to provide for exchange subsidary silver coins for legal tender mone and to make such coins legal tender in all sums not exceeding ten dollars. The question was, on a motion made by Buckner, of Missouri, chairman of the Committee on Banking and Currency to refer the bill to that committee. That motion was opposed by Stephens of Georgia, chairman of the Coinage Committee, who argued that the bil came from the appropriate committee was now before the House was short, simple, and ought to be acted upon by the House to-day. mory,

At the close of morning hour the sub sidiary silver bill went over till tomorrow. An effort was made by Atkins, of Tennessee, to have debates on the legislative bill closed next Satur-day. That provoked a controversy between Atkins and Conger, the latter in-terpreted a remark of Atkins into an apology to him. Atkins informed him, however, that he was incapable of apologizing to that gentleman—to that man. Conger said that he was equally man. Conger said that he was equally glad that the gentleman withdrew his apology. Atkins told him that he had not withdrawn it. Conger was equally glad the gentleman showed some little feeling. Atkins thought it a pity that Conger did not show some, but he had ne. It was agreed to extend the debate until Friday of next week. The House then went into a committee of the whole on the legislative bill. Kelly made a speech against the policy of attempting to coerce the President into signing the appropriation bills, and warned the Democratic party that if it attempts to override the veto in any other than a constitutional way it will be trampled under the feet of an indignant people. Said he would vote for a repeal of the test oath for jurors if before the House as a separate measure. At the expiration of the hour, Kelly's time was, on motion of Mr. Carlisle of Kentucky, extended fifteen minutes. His speech was listened to with mark-

RALEIGH, April 16th.—On Monday
9 a. m., the 14th instant, Mr. Robert E. Parham took his departure from this city, accompanied by Miss Minnie Parham, Messrs. John Armstrong, Pascal Griffs, Macon L. Parham and Rev. W. R. Gwaltney, and at 4 p. m. they arrived at the residence of Capt. W. S. Harris, of Franklin county, wao gave the party and several other young people in his community a splendid reception. Supper being over, all returned to the parlor, and when the gentlemen looked at their watches to see if it was 10 o'clock, and to their surprise it was 12 o'clock. At 9 a. m. on the following morning, Mr. R. E. Parbam and Miss Rosa Harriss attended by Mr. Johnnie R. Williams and Miss Minnie Parham, Mr. Macon L. Parham and Miss Sallie C. Griffis, Mr. Edward A. Crudup and Miss Lou Shamblee, Mr. John Armstrong and Miss Bettie Harris entered the paylor. Miss Bettie Harris entered the parlor, and after an impressive ceremony by Rev. W. R. Gwaltney the couple first mentioned were pronounced man and wife. At 10 o'clock the party entered their carriages with cheerful hearts to return to this city. Arrived at the res-idence of Mr. J. H. that peace and happiness attend them till death. Where is Our Heritage?

OXFORD, April 16. Rienzi, the last of the Roman tribunes, uttered an expression which our peo-ple might well consider, "Our fathers were freeman. Where is our heritage? Not sold, not given away; but stolen, now by fraud, now by force, filched from us in our unguarded sleep, or wrung from us with fierce hands amidst our cries and strug-

The above language portrays vividly to our minds the present condition of our once happy country, with the hand of a centralizing despotism crushing out the liberties of our people. There was a time when Italian freemen glo-ried in the thought that they were the citizens of a country whose protecting egis was thrown around her humbles subjects-when a persecuted Paul could make the arms of his persecutors fall tremulous by their sides, with the an-nouncement that they had insulted and the British lion tremble and respect our rights, as the proud bird of freedom lifted its pinions on high, teaching the na tions of the earth that Americans knew their rights and dared maintain them What a change has come over our be loved country since that memorable day when the immortal Pinckney awed an arbitrary potentate into silence by reflecting the will of his countrymen in the expression, "millions for defense but not one cent for tribute." Look a the condition of our country to-day. What do we behold? We see a minority another man's office," contending with whole system of currency of the counthe representatives of the people for the had to be done to install a minority President against the wishes of the people, and to keep the many plunderer of the nation in office until the military experiments of a similar nature, on more gigantic scale, if carried out to successful termination, would awe our once proud and prosperous Republic into silence, stop the pulsations of freedom in the land, and bring the sovereignty of the States in servile degra dation at the feet of a corrupt, controlizing power at the capital of the nation.

What christian does not feel like he ought to enjoy the privilege of giving vent to his feelings, when he sees his "Fraudulency" occupying the highest position of trust in this great republic, with his selected emissaries around him plundering the country, talking about the great necessity of sending armed grenadiers to disturb the freedom and quiet of elections, and arrest all who dare to intimate that they have no business there, "without process" of law? Myriad eyes are turned to Congress, (the hope of the country,) in this trying crisis in our country's history. The question is, will Congress, in this trying moment, yieldingly crouch at the feet of centralizing power, or manfully resist further encroachments on American liberty? We want no Cromwellian influence to preserve the purity and freedom of the ballot box and the press, and to dictate to the representatives of the people what laws they shall pass for the protection and government of the country.

Rutherford B. Hayes may place his minions of misrule and corruption in positions of trust and honor, that should be filled by the virtuous and intelligent worthies of the land; but it is Congress to say whether or not their constituents shall exercise the rights of freemen at the ballot-box, or be driven, at the point of the bayonet, to express the will of a usurper. If the treasures purse strings, teach unscrupulons char-acters that the sinews of war cannot be granted, by sagacious statesmen, to those base enough to use them in up-rooting and demolishing the cherished institutions of the country. To use the language of a Northern writer, I will say, "If the acting President wants money for his soldiers, let him promise to use them for no purpose hostile to the rights of the States or the liberty of the people." If the minority man from Ohio is too intent in his purpose to control the election franchise of the coun try to sanction the appropriation bills of Congress requiring the removal of his troops from the election precincts of the country, the sooner the people learn the unyielding and subversive intent of the centralizing power at Washington, the better.

R. W. D. MARTIN is an artful dodger. He dodged the vote on the army bill, but toed the mark like a little man on Garfields proposition "that no amer changing existing laws should be attached to appropriation bill." He voted with his party and attempted to accomplish indirectly what he lacked the manhood to do directly. Martin is not a success; and the seat that he so seldom fills on the Republican side of the House will soon know him no more, or words to that effect.

Destitute Darkies in Kansas--Seventeen Hundred in Wyandotte-Aid is Asked from the UnitedStates-Sick, Helpless and Dying. By Telegraph to the News.

A dispatch from Kansas City states that a large number of the colored refugees from the Southern States were brought up the river and landed from the steamloats at Wyandotte. They are in a most destitute condition. During the past tew days it has been impossible for them to procure any place of abode. The churches and public halls are filled. The exposure to which these homeless immigrants are subjected is great. Many are in a helpless condition—sick from exposure, worn out and hungry—and many are dying.

Mr. Shelly, the mayor of Kansas City, has telegraphed the Secretary of War, asking for aid from the United States Government, that an order may be sent to issue rations to these starying.

be sent to issue rations to these starving darkies from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The Secretary replied that he had no authority to issue such an order .-He advised that application be made to Congress, now in session; that it was exclusively a matter for the jurisdiction of Congress.

A committee on the part of the citizens of Wyandotte has been formed to look after the sufferers, and have issued call to the citizens of the United States for immediate aid to relieve their terri-ble suffering. The committee further state that there are 1700 entirely destitute already in the city, and thousands more in the same condition are on the way and begging for immediate assist-ance. the severe winter.

The adjournment of the Legislature seemed to be a relief to the people. They certainly did not make a favorble impression in this section. They were too much like the Indian's pole on the retrenchment question—so straight that it leaned a little the other way. For example, they made a new form of a deed of conveyance, and put the pro-bate at ten cents and the registration at twenty cents. This cuts the clerks out of fifteen cents, and the Register of Deeds out of sixty cents; and to accom-plish this it must have cost the State not less than twelve or fifteen hundred dollars of the people's money, raised by taxation, while the little fees were paid by private parties who had the business done. And this is in keeping with a great deal of their legislation, if I have read aright. But at one fell swoop they tax the people to the tune of

FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS for one Railroad. That is retrenchment and reform with a vengeance. Where the money comes by taxation they are lavish, but when it is paid by private parties, to a little county officer, as a fee, they are excedingly parsimonious. Officers in small counties can scarcely live by their offices at best, and another such Legislature would put county of-fices in many counties at a premium. But it is hoped that we will soon have the Acts out, so that we may know exactly what has been done; then we can form a better opinion of their work. With present light their work appears rather unfavorable. EQUITY.

It seems searcely credible that General Fitz John Porter should have been refused the chance of rebabilitating himself in the estimation rebabilitating himself in the estimation of his compatriots during the eight years of General Grant's Presidency, yet such is the case. At length President Hayes consented to grant to General Porter the court of inquiry for which he had never ceased to pray, and it will be a satisfation to the officers in every part of the world to learn that after a thorough and searching examination of the case it has been decided that the former verdict was unjust. only is General Porter declared to have been wrongfully convicted, but it is also recorded that at the second battle of Manassas he was instrumental in preserving the Federal army from a still more crushing disaster. The report of the court of inquiry, which awaits the President's approval, restores Fitz John Porter to the position of which the sentence of 1862 deprived him, and entitles him to receive the back pay due to him since the date of his dismissal from the army. We entertain no manner of doubt that this reversal of an unjust condemnation will be acceptable to the citizens of the great republic. General Porter was widely known and esteemed among his contemporaries in the old Army of the United States. And the harsh verdict of 1862 was received with surprise and defendant be brought into Court. The order was given to the Sheriff, and Henry A. Davis, Henry F. Gov. Seymour on Politicians.

Yew York Sun. "I never loved the exercise of power, never cared particularly for public places, but I always loved politics, and what is more, I like politicians. They are a much abused class. It is the fashion to sneer at them, but I think they are better men, as a rule, than merchants and bankers and other representatives. and bankers and other representatives of what is called respectability. They make more sacrifices and do more un-selfish work for others than business men ever think of doing. They cultivate a certain chivalric sense of honor Even some who are naturally corrupt will refuse the most tempting bribes when the integrity of their party is inwhen the integrity of their party is in-volved. I have seen enough of political life to satisfy me that its influence is elevating and not degrading. I would much rather be tried by a jury of my tress in the valley of the Nile as intense as my avowed polical oppo-nents would display. The man who serves a cause, if it is not a positively bad cause, is ennobled by the service. He learns to look at men, as well as doctrines, from a higher standpoint

The Trial of Duncan Johnson, The Negro Boy Murderer.

The all-pervading object of interest this week has been the trial of the boy Dunean Johnson, charged with the killing of little John Edmundson. As was stated last week, the grand jury failed to find a bill for murder, but indifference. Their deportment struck dicted Johnson for manslaughter. On every spectator; and it could only be this indictment he was arraigned last Monday. The young defendant was ably represented by Messrs. W. T. Dortch & Son and Grainger & Bryson, while Messrs. Faircloth & Simmon had been employed by frends of the de-almost stoic imperturbility.

The Judge's charge was clear and pointed, and the case was given to the jury about noon Tuesday, who after remaining out some four hours, returned a verdict of "not guilty," whereupon Duncan Johnson was discharged from custody.

Deep interest had been manifestee throughout the trial, and many who had listened attentively to the testimony, the arguments of counsel, and to the charge of Judge Seymour, made no concealment of their disgust and expressed indignation at the verdict, and even His Honor appeared not to be pre-pared for the acquittal. On the other hand, Johnson received the congratulations of his friends.

GENERAL JAMES SHIELDS, after the close of his last short session in the Senate at Washington, returned to Missouri, and spoke at Jefferson City a few days ago, and referred to his former service in the Senate, twenty years since, as a Senator from Minnesota. Oh his return to his old position he found many changes. The only thing he found unchanged was the strife between the sections, and asked is it never to end? And this is his comment: "The American people as a whole are deeply injured by this conflict. To them it is productive of nothing but unmitigated evil. No people on earth are better fitted by nature to live together in ter fitted by nature to live together in amity. They are children of the same soil, citizens of the same republic, and heirs of the same destiny, and, in spite of their divisions and dissentions, and even in spite of themselves, they will have to submit to the same destiny so long as a republican government lasts in America. There are not two destinies marked out by fortune for this nies marked out by fortune for this people—one for the North and another for the South. The North and South must go up together or down together. Providence has bound them together by chains forged by nature, which are as hard as adamant and as strong as as hard as adamant and as strong as iron. If, in an excess of madness, this people ever break these chains, they will all go down together. North and South, East and West, will all sink together to the dead level of the other un-fortunate republics of this continent."

The Meetings at the M. E. Church. Correspondence of the News.

RALEIGH, April 16th, There appears to be quite an interesting meeting going on at the Methodist church. Mrs. Moon has been serving our citizens very faithful for nearly a week in presenting the way of salvation in a pure and holy manner. I think all our churches have not taken hold of the subject in a proper way. All of them ought to become united to aid this good and holy woman in her great endeavors to win souls to Christ. I hope all the preachers of the different churches will have a consultation and agree on some plan for all the churches to become really interested in this important work.

Night Scenes on the Line of an Egyp-tian Railroad.—A Sheeking Tale of Distress.

The accounts of the distress now existing in the valley of the Nile, reminded the writer of a scene witnessed in the winter of 1866. Starting from Cairo for a trip up the Nile, we stopped the first night opposite the ancient Memphis, to which we walked in the mountiest. We were surprised at see country, it took much more than seventeen years to procure for the late Lord Dundonald a reversal of the injustice which expelled him from the British Naval and forced him to display his singular valor and energy as a sailhis singular valor and energy as a sail-or in the service of the Peruvians. Gen-eral Fitz John Porter is fortunate that his life has been spared until the day of them, back. The bodies of those who died from exhaustion helped to swell the embankment. No time for sentiment. What their hours of labor were ment. What their hours of labor were I could not find out, but I saw them at work at 10 p. m. I saw villages up the river partly depopulated because of a late visit of these steamers, and one entirely abandoned and partly in ruins, having been fired into, as was said by our dragoman, because the Shiek could or would not furnish the required quota. It was the intention to grade the entire road of several hundred miles in this way. Whether it has been accomplished I am not aware. Our party chartered a government steamer for the chartered a government steamer for the trip. At the coal station the officers impressed the first natives they could catch and compelled them to coal our steamer in the same manner the railroad was being graded, in baskets car-ried on the head. I do not wonder that with this system of unpaid labor in full force, with all the palaces of the Khedive, with his great desire for improvements, and his large disastrous attempts at cotton growing and sugar-making, there should finally be dis-

Diabolical Murder in Alexander Statesville Landmark.
The usually quiet village of Taylorsville was very much shocked on last Saturday, the 12th inst., by a tragedy of very unusual occurrence in civilized society, viz: the killing of a man on the public streets, in full sight of fifty or more people. A negro by name Anderson benny, was intoxicated sitting in the middle of the street playing a banjo, whereupon one W. C. Teague deliberately walked toward him, and began belaboring him over the head with a large oak stick. Denny attempted to rise and Teague drew a pistol and began firing, two balls taking effect in Denny's body, causing almost instan-taneous death. The whole affair occu-pied only a few minutes.—Teague was slightly wounded in the head during the remeanatry. The projectors is the rencountre. The prisoner is a very worthless character. SASSINATION.

Speaker Randall opened wide the door for general legislation in his rulbills accompanied by petition and deposited in the petition box may be reported by the committees for action in policy of the minority inaugurated by Conger on Monday. Bills introduced in ordinary course are referred and printed; those introduced by petition are referred without printing to the various committees. The result of Mr. Conger's brilliant device is, that he and his colleagues may at any moment be called upon to vote for a bill whose title even they have never heard and which no one outside of the members of the committee recommending its passage has seen. Our mode of legislating has many drawbacks, but the printing of a bill on its introduction is one of the greatest safeguards against the enacting of vicious laws. Both friends and enemies have it in their power to discuss them intelligently. The new flank movement deprives the House of this safeguard.

Conger and his obstructive allies are responsible. To resist the passage of a bill is one thing, and to resist the intro. duction of all bills is quite another.

GEORGIA is proud of the credit which has enabled her to be the first among the states to place 4 per cent bonds on the market and have them snapped up at once. Her babybonds she calls them, as they are issued in denominations of $5, $10, $20 and $50, about the shape and size of greenbacks, except that they have coupons attached. There are $500,000 of them now authorized, payable in six years, $200,000 to be issued this year and the rest in 1880. They are to refund 7 and 8 per cent bonds now falling due. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Raum has just decided that these bonds are not liable to the 10 per cent tax imposed by the national bank act on bills put out by State banks and bankers. Their constitutionality is still at stake, however, and Attorney-General Devens is to be asked whether they are bills of credit, whose issue by a state the federal constitution prohibits. Missouri, as well as Georgia, will be interested in the decision, for the Missouri Legistature is now considering a proposition to refund 6 per cents about to fall due with similar 4 per cent baby bonds. If Attorney General Deven's decision is favorable to Georgia, it is likely that many of the southern and western states will take this means of borrowing.

ILLINOIS has taken the first step to ward the compulsory education of its children in the passage of a law which requires of every child twelve weeks' schooling yearly between the ages of eight and fourteen. This is little enough, and it is coupled with an enactment permitting the employment of children under fourteen, 40 weeks in the year when a certificate of twelve weeks' schooling has been obtained. A small fine, in one case of from $20 to $50 and in the other of from $5 to $10, is imposed on employers and parents respectively who violate the provisions of this act. In extreme cases of destitution the local educational board is required to loan school books to children, and a wide dispetion is given these coards in remitting attendance ride for honor, and did not lose their and gener, the hold upon the regimental flag until it Meal, Flour,

THE JOURNALIST.

Anent the tender of the Berlin mission to Whitelaw Reid, editor of the N. Y. Tribune, the Philadelpnia Progress observes:

"The custom by which distinguished editors in America are excluded from political office has now been canonized into a law that applies to no other calling. They must toil at the worst-paid vocation in the world (with a very few exceptions), leaving the lawyers and party-leaders to absorb all the places of emolument and distinction, and they must accept this abnegation not only with sublime philosophy, but as a most agreeable duty. Mr. Reid bows to the unwritten statute with characteristic good nature. In England the journalists sit in Parliament and wields a deserved influence. John Walter, of the Times, is in the Commons; Dr. Cameron, of the Glasgow Mail, Sir Charles Dilke, of the Athenæum, Justin McCarthy, of the Daily News, Joseph Cowen, of the New Castle Chronicle, are also members of the same body and others on both benches are devoted to letters.

While in France the great Academies contain many journalists, and there is hardly a leader in the Chambers who has not been an editor, and many of the diplomatists are proud of the same distinction. We need not name such men as Gambetta, Thiers, Louis Blanc, Girardin, Laboulaye, Guizot, Lamartine, Paul Cassagnac, etc., and many more, dead and living.

So Long as the Czar of Russia persists in his cruel despotism towards the Nihilists, he may expect the assassin to be on his track. The cable only a day or two ago told a story of horrible blood-thirstiness that has rarely been paralleled in any age or country. Some political prisoners at Keiff arranged a plan of escaping, by tunnelling under the walls of the prison. A traitor among them exposed the design. The authorities did not interfere to stop the work of excavating the passage. It was completed, and on a dark night the inmates entered the long tunnel, in single file, only to be shot down, one by one, in cold blood, as they emerged beyond the walls. A number of those in the passage, hearing the musketry, became alarmed and began to retreat, but another squad of soldiers met them at the other end, and all were slain. This is the treatment accorded to men The punishments of prisoners are of charged with no crime but the holding of tabooed opinions. Such hellish acts are the seeds of revolution, the propagators of assassination. It is not in human nature to stand it.

BISHOP Whittle, of the Episcopal diocese of Virginia, has issued a pastoral letter forbidding the use of flowers in Church decorations, even at Easter, and A DEMOCRATIC FLANK MOVE- disapproving of evergreens at Christnas. Rev. Dr. Armstrong, of the Mon umental Church, Richmond, replies with a calm but vigorous denial of the ing on Wednesday, to the effect that Bishop's right to make any such prohibition, and argues that the order will excite "widespread talk and much dissatisfaction; it will interrupt the flow majority to overcome the obstruction prominiony which has so long very and what seems to me no less deeply to be deplored, it will, in the view of many, elevate to the plane of importance subjects which surely cannot but be acknowledged both in themselves and relatively to be important." Dr. Armstrong is sustained by the vestry of his church, but the Bishop will be obeyed under protest.

Judge Thurman's mother was born, raised and married in Eastern North Carolina. Her father, Col. Allen, was born in Bertie county. Her mother, nee Miss Granberry, was a daughter of Mr. Granberry, of Perquimans county. Hence ALLEN GRANBERRY THURMAN of to-day. Miss Allen married Rev. Mr. Thurman, a Methodist preacher, and a member of the Virginia Conference. Subsequently he was transferred to Lynchburg, where Allen G. Thurman was born. In the course of itenerancy he moved to Kentucky and subsequently located permanently in Ohio. It is Judge Thurman's intention, we understand, to take advantage of his visit to the State University this summer to visit the old homestead now owned by Dr. Lewellen Warren. Judge Thurman will find a warm North Carolina welcome. MR. CLAY was discussing the military appropriation bill (January 1819, Annals of Congress 2nd session 15th Congress). The question was whether 'the President had the power to employ the money of the country in constructing public roads. Mr. Clay said on that occasion: "It was proper to pass "a bill and present it to the President "and if he refused to sanction it, then he declared that he had no hesitation "in avowing, he should be ready to "proceed to hostilities with the President on this point and withold every 'appropriation until he conceded the "point." It will be hard to make the old whigs in the country believe that the Democratic party is contemplating "revolution" in following the teaching of their illustrious leader.

SOMETHING novel in the history of Indian affairs is the action of the Ponca Indians who have brought their case before the courts. There is a ray of good sense in this. There is no doubt of the sufferings of the Indians or the general rascality and dishonesty of Indian agents. Hitherto they have had recourse to the tomahawk, and with the uniform result of compelling the Government to use its military force on the side of the thieving agents, the Indians always lose when they fight. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the igor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a Dread and despair fall upon the community when a terribue epidemic, like the cholera or yellow feuer, suddenly desolates our nomes, yet, all the while, a more insiduous, but no less latal foe, enters thousands of households every year and carries off the nower of the lamily in the early flush of manly youth and budding womanhood. People call it presumption, or "decline,". It is not, in most cases, the twoercular patiniste or consumption of the lungs, which is the peculiar makady in chimates like those of that British Islands and New England, but a general decay or arrest of the vital processes of nutrition. All the doctors agree that there is no remedy for this but tod Liver til but they are constantly met by the obstacle of inabinity on the part of the patient te swallow or retain it. This repulsion is entirely overcome by Scott's Emulsion of the til wan the any pophesion of the taste and an unequaled nutrient and tome for the body, nerves and brain.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HERATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidi 1, causes the Liver to throw off from one to wo ounces of bile end throw the blood passes through it, as long as oner is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty eschicaching. an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yelle we complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all billious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking Heratine in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

Episcopal Convention.

Rev. J. W. Larmour, secretary of the Episcopal convention, formally an-nounces that the 63d annual convention of the diocease of North Carolina will meet, D. V., in St. John's church, Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 14th of May next. Arrangements have been made with the authorities of the different railroads for the usual reduction of fare for clergymen and delegates, who must in all cases purchase return tickets.

J. N. Pattison, Esq.

We regret to learn that this distinguished gentleman is confined to his room at the Yarborough House by severe illness. It was plain to his audi ence at Tucker Hail, on Tuesday night that Mr. Pattison was not in good health, but few knew how ill he really was, and what an effort it required to ge through the task he had set himself, without flattering and without com-plaint or apology. It gives us pleasure, however, to state that Mr. P. is progressing favorably, and hopes to be fully restored to health in the course of a few days. We trust so.

Mr. L. Rosenthal.

In presenting the names of the prom inent and successful merchants of this city, that of Mr. L. Rosenthal stands out conspicuously. Mr. Rosenthal has carved out his own fortune. His early life was spent in the west. When a boy he started without means or influence. He was employed in the fur trade of Wisconsin by a prominent fur dealer in that State. He roamed the wilds of that hipoborean region, a lad of sixteen, and to use his words, "I never had more fun in my life." Business called him to New Orleans and afterwards to Little Rock, Arkansas, where he carried on business in copartnership with his brother. He was in that city when the war was begun and enlisted with the "Boys in Grey." He was made a prisby the Northern army and afterwards released, when he became a sut-ler and followed that army. At the termination of the war he found himself a sutler in the Federal camp at Raleigh and soon opened a dry goods house at his present stand on Fayetterille street. He was attentive to business, and his efforts were soon crowned with success. Trade increased rapidly and his business was prosperous. Three stores in successful operation are the result. The possession of two and his business was prosperous.

Three stores in successful operation are the result. The possession of two handsome brick buildings on Fayette-mier save Lord Beaconsfield. ville street, one on Wilmington street and his fine residence on South Fay-etteville street are the evidence of his prosperity. In answer to the reporters question, "To what do you attribute your success?" He said, "What success i nave made has bee accomplished by close a en on to b si less, cash pur Chases hom arst bands, small margins on my sales and no credit, but plenty on my sales and no credit, but plenty of pointeness to my customers." Mr. Rosenaual is a valuable citizen. He is an active and enterprising business man and a leading property owner in this city. His contributions through the tax collectors is $800 annually.

An Amputated Leg. The colored man whose foot was amputated day before yesterday afternoon had his leg amputated yesterday after-noon. Dr. Alston was his physician and has shown great solicitude in his case It was said that he had sent twenty miles in the country for the assis-tance of another doctor, and all in the nterest of suffering humanity, without any prospect of pecuniary reward.

Dr. Alston has a kind heart and is a faithful physician.

Military Affairs. On Friday night last the Winston Light Infantry held their annual election of officers, which resulted as fol-lows: Captain, Jno. T. Vann; Ist Lieut. R. T. Steadman; 2nd Lieut., E. H.

Wilson; Junior 2nd Lieut., John A.

Col. C. W. Alexander, of Charlotte, has sent in his resignation as colonel of the Second regiment of the North Carolina State Guard to take effect immediately. Col. Alexander's action is based upon a preference to be with his old company, the Charlotte Grays, of which he was captain at the time of his first election to the colonelcy of the regiment. He has made an efficient and popular officer, and his retirement will be generally regretted.

If the Republicans do not like the egislation which the present Congress proposes to enact, we can tell them of a feasible and manly way of procee-ding to which nobody will object. Let them go to work and turn out the Dem-ocratic majority and elect a Republican Congress. This will be honorable and above board, and perfectly legitimate.

WHAT I KNOW ABOUT VEGETINE.

SOUTH BOSTON, May 9, 1870.

R. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I have had considerable experience with the VEGETINE. For dyspepsia, general debility, and impure blood, the VEGETINE is superior to anything which I have ever used. I commenced taking VEGETINE about the middle of last winter, and, after using a few bottles, it entirely cured me of dyspepsia, and my blood never was in so good condition as at the present time. It will afford me pleasure to give any further particulars relative to what I know about this good medicine to any one who will call or address me at my residence, 386 Athens street.

Very respectfully,

MONROE PARKER,

386 Athens street.

SYMPTOMS.—Want of appetite, rising of food and wind from the stomach, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, dryness and whiteness of the tongue in the morning, sense of distension in the stomach and bowels, sometimes rumbling and pain; costiveness, which is occasionally interrupted by diarrhœa; paleness of the urine. The mouth is clammy, or has a sour or bitter taste. Other frequent symptoms are waterbrash, palpitation of the heart, headache, and disorders of the senses, as seeing double, etc. There is general debility, languor and aversion to motion; dejection of the spirits, disturbed sleep, and frightful dreams.

Gained Fifteen Pounds of Flesh. SOUTH BERWICK, Me., Jan. 17, 1872, H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I have had dyspepsia in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine without obtaining any relief. In September last I commenced taking the VEGETINE, since which time my health has steadily improved. My food digests well, and I have gained fifteen pounds of gests well, and I have gained fifteen pounds of gests well, and I have gained litteen pounds of flesh. There are several others in this place taking the Vegetine, and all have obtained relief. Yours truly. THOMAS E. MOORE, Overseer of Card Room, Portsmouth Co.'s Mills.

FEEL MYSELF A NEW MAN. NATICE, Mass., June 1, 1872. Mr. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—Through the advice and earnest persuasion of the Rev. E. S. Best, of this place, I have been taking Vegetine for dyspepaia, of which I have suffered for years.

I have used only two bottles, and already feel wrealf a new man. Respectfully.

myself a new man. Respectfully, DR. J. W. CARTER.

GOOD EVIDENCE. CINCINNATI, Nov. 26, 1872. Mr. H. R. STEVENS Dear Sir—The two bottles of VEGETINE fur-nished me by your agent my wife has used with nished me by your agent my market mention of the great benefit.

For a long time she has been troubled with dizziness and costiveness; these troubles are now entirely removed by the use of VEORTING She was also troubled with dyspepsis and general debility, and has been greatly benefited.

THOMAS GILMORE,

2291/2 Walnut street.

RELIABLE EVIDENCE.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, VEGETINE, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I could never breathe any more, and VEGETINE has cured me; and I do feel to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I also think it one of the best medicines for coughs and weak sinking feelings at the stomach, and advise everybody to take the VEGETINE, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

APPRECIATION CHARLESTOWN, Mass., March 19, 1869. I. R. STEVENS:
This is to certify that I have used your "Blood This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" (Vegetine) in my family for several years, and think that, for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors or Rheumatic affections, it cannot be excelled; and as a blood purifier and spring medicine it is the best thing I have ever used; and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in meed of such a medicine. Yours respectfully, MRS. A. A. DINSMORE, 19 Russall streat.
